TECHNICAL PROJECTS

I Got Next - Frontend | Backend | Demo

Provides real time activity for basketball courts so users can find a court that fits their needs on a given day.

- Employed React components, hooks and state variables to optimize forms and button behavior.
- Built a custom backend Rails API and database with ActiveRecord, Postgres, and Ruby on Rails.
- Developed a map by querying Leaflets map API so users can find courts via a responsive map.
- Utilized JSON Web Tokens and localStorage to store encrypted user information client-side.
- Formatted and styled using CSS flexbox and Semantic.

Discourse - Github | Netlify

Users who are at odds regarding polarizing topics can connect based on common interests with the hope that these connections will establish a common ground between "enemies" and lead to meaningful discourse.

- Utilized controlled forms, components and hooks with the React framework.
- Built an algorithm with Ruby on Rails that pairs users with similar interests in conjunction with differing beliefs.
- Implemented a chat via Chatstream's API offering expressive messaging and edit/delete capabilities.
- Styled using CSS Flexbox and Grid. Entirely vanilla CSS.
